LEWIS MADDUX, Treasurer,

The Sunday School.

THE Sunday-school has changed almost entirely from a church to a mission school. This is one reason for the decrease in Sunday-school collections. It has in the past two years decreased in numbers because of the increase of schools on the west of us, and also from our declining to contribute aid to the extent done formerly; and further, because of the lack of suitable teachers, male and female, which the school has suffered for the past year. This season, particularly, the school is in still greater need of well qualified, self-denying teachers. The Library needs replenishing. There were 400 scholars upon the roll, with an average attendance of 300; with 3 male and 24 female teachers; 12 teachers less than in the previous year. There were 15 from the school in the Confirmation class.

REPORT
OF THE Parish Kindergarten.
1883-84.

THE Kindergarten was re-opened as usual, on the first Monday in October, 1883, and sixty expectant little people presented themselves at the door, asking to be admitted. As there was good reason why every applicant should come to us, we gladly opened our doors and hearts to them, and made them welcome. Our numbers increased during the next two weeks, until our roll contained the names of eighty children, with an average daily attendance of sixty-eight.

During the month the homes of these children were visited, acquaintance made, and friendship formed, with their parents and guardians. Upon investigation, and inquiry why the children were sent to our Parish Kindergarten, in nearly every instance the reply was, "We hear you do our children good;" showing that our labors have been productive of good results, which have been duly appreciated and reported by the parents of children who have been heretofore cared for by us. We have been greatly pleased with the co-operation of the parents of our children in our efforts to have them attend in tidy garments, and with clean hands and faces. And here I would particularly thank our kind friend, Mrs. H. M. Upton, who made for each needy child, a comfortable dress, and two pretty aprons, so that the excuse of "nothing to wear" at the daily sessions should not be theirs. The Young Ladies' Sewing Society gave us most efficient aid, and all our children were helped to come to us comfortably clothed.

During the past season, we called together on two occasions the mothers, feeling that we required their aid to assist us to prepare their children to become useful, virtuous, happy citizens—the aim of the New Education. We hope to make in the future the mother's meeting a feature of our work, as half the value of the early training of children is lost, unless the hearts and minds of the parents are also reached. As we, in our work, respect the little ones, so would we teach many women to treat their children with respect.

The health of the Kindergarten has been uniformly good. But one death has occurred. Absences on account of illness are rare. A warm luncheon has been provided for the children daily, which is fully appreciated by them, as in many instances this is the one substantial meal they receive during the day. A bounteous dinner on Thanksgiving Day, provided by our friends in the church, was no small event in the lives of these little people. And later, on Christmas Day, through the generosity of the President of the Kindergarten Association, Mrs. Christian Herter, each of our eighty children was made happy with a pretty and suitable gift.

That they are a happy and satisfied little body, is attested by the promptness and eagerness of their attendance, and by their reluctance to be dismissed at the close of the day.

Our prolonged experience but the further satisfies us that in this daily moulding of the thoughts and feelings and habits of very young children, lies the foundation of a true moral and religious education.

We will always be glad to see our friends at the Kindergarten, and to show them our work in progress.

The Preparatory Class was closed for the summer months on Tuesday, May 7th, and the Advanced Class was closed on Thursday, May 1st. The children have seemed greatly interested in their work this winter, and they are much more helpful, tidy and quiet than they were at the beginning of the year.

The classes in Kitchen Garden Work were started in November, and the children have been quite regular in their attendance.

REPORT
OF THE Industrial School.

THIS admirable department of our parish work was opened Saturday, November 24th, 1883, with an attendance of 192 children. A class of 16 girls, from the graduates of last year, was also formed, who have been taught dress-making and the use of the sewing machine, and we have had during the winter an average attendance of 226 scholars.

The School was closed March 29th, 1884. 54 children were graduated, and 10 prizes awarded. 584 garments were made by the scholars, and were given to them.

The Penny Savings Bank, a new feature introduced in the School, proved most successful. We trust we have by this means instilled the principles of thrift and saving, so needful to one and all, and that even the youngest ones in our charge have learned that they, too, could earn something and help the toiling mothers. Also, the fact that they had their small savings to bring, was an extra inducement for the children to come, as was demonstrated by the average attendance. $154.44 was deposited. The largest sum saved by one child being $5.20; the least being 2 cents.

The ladies kindly volunteering to assist us as teachers were 13 in number, to whom we tender our grateful thanks; and 10 paid teachers were employed. Our thanks are also due to the Wheeler & Wilson Sewing Machine Company for the use of one of their machines.

Entertainment Committee.

Owing to the work done in this line by the West Side Club and Institute, this Committee was not called into action this year.

West Side Club and Institute.

Report, June 1st, 1884.

AFTER several preliminary conferences, and subscriptions of about $1,200 by several ladies and gentlemen, the West Side Club and Institute was formally organized June 23d, 1884, and the following named gentlemen were elected to the offices stated: President, Rev. Dr. R. Heber Newton; Vice-Presidents, Edward M. Brown and Henry E. Pellew; Secretary, Justus O. Woods; Treasurer, Gustav H. Schwab; Managers, A. R. Whitney (chairman), Philip S. Miller, C. A. Low, E. P. Mason, C. F. Doane, C. R. Leaycraft, Thos. Fessenden, D. A. Easton, C. N. Wayland, J. P. Meday.

A series of gratuitous entertainments were given in Manhattan Hall, corner Eighth Avenue and Fifty-fourth Street, as follows: February 28th, "Paris, Past and Present," by Dr. N. Maynard, F.R.S., with Stereopticon Illustrations. March 5th, "Humorous Recitations," by J. S. Burdett, with choice music, vocal and instrumental. March 12th, "Humorous Representations," by Marshall P. Wilder, with excellent music, vocal and instrumental. The first and second entertainments were very poorly attended, from want, probably, of proper publicity, and because of bad weather, and that children were not admitted. Many of the working people cannot leave home in the evening without taking their children with them.

At the third entertainment the hall was crowded with some 700 or 800 people who seemed to enjoy the affair very much. The cost of these entertainments was near $200.

A fourth entertainment was given at the same place May 21st, consisting of a brief address by Dr. R. Heber Newton, President; "Humorous Recitations," by Mr. J. S. Burdett, and choice music, vocal and instrumental. An admission fee of 10 cents was charged, with reserved seats 20 cents. As the hall was not likely to be filled, many tickets were given away. The hall was less than half filled. The receipts were about $25, and the expenses about $50.

At the three gratuitous entertainments efforts were made to get the names of persons in the audience desirous of becoming members of the Club, but with no very encouraging success, although the objects and benefits of the Club were clearly and fully stated.

At the third meeting notice was given that a meeting would be held the next week in a smaller room of the building, and all interested were invited to attend. A few young men came with three or four older men, and a meeting has been held weekly since that date, with constant accessions to the attendance, so that the number enrolled as members is 94. The ages of the majority vary from 14 to 20 years, but about 7 are adults. Provisional By-Laws were adopted. The cost of the room per evening was $3.00.

The occupation of the evenings consisted of talks and discussions of various subjects, as "The Best Employments for Young Men;" "Amusements for Young Men." There have been also some singing and excellent recitations by artist friends. Dr. L. A. Baralt, President of the Artistic Society, lectured on Deportment. Debates were to be instituted. A base ball club was formed and plays every Saturday P.M. It was regretful that all the young mechanics cannot have a half or quarter Saturday holiday for recreation. They gave excuse for playing Sunday that they have no other time.

Thirty-four of the young men applied for access to the Apprentices' Library, West Sixteenth Street, and provisions were made for all. Other objects of interest were being projected. Efforts have been unsuccessfully made to find a permanent building for reading and recreation rooms. Failing in this, it was decided to suspend meetings during the summer, to the great regret of many members. The work of the Club is much needed in the locality chosen, and the prospects are encouraging. The hearty aid and sympathy of all are earnestly solicited.

The Club was represented by the Secretary at the Congress held in this city in May.

Respectfully submitted by

JUSTUS O. WOODS, Secretary,

Fresh Air Fund.

A FEW people urgently needing a change have been sent out of town this summer, but no attempt has been made to carry on our usual work, for two good reasons. Expecting to get into our own Summer Home by the middle of the summer, we made no arrangements in the spring for boarding our beneficiaries elsewhere. The repeated delays forced upon us by the parties from whom we bought our land, finally made it impossible for us to do more than open our cottages at the end of the season in an unfinished state. The summer proved so cool that there was less need of our work than usual, and the expenses involved in so considerable an undertaking as the building of six houses necessarily exceeded our original estimates; especially as the Building Committee decided upon a material enlargement and improvement of the original plans for the cottages. Therefore it was deemed wise to undertake nothing for this summer beyond the completion of our Summer Home. We are glad to report that the Committee have handed over to the Bureau of Works and Charities the title to some eight acres of land on Roslyn Bay, about a half mile south of Sea Cliff, with six pretty cottages ready for next summer's use.

The site chosen is easily accessible from New York, by rail and by boat; the steamer-landing being only a few minutes' walk from our House. The land lies picturesquely upon the bay, fronting the water and with a sand beach under our own control, rising from the water to an elevation commanding charming views of the bay and the sound, and for the most part well wooded with chestnuts and locusts, giving an abundance of shade for the children at play. The cottages are located upon a knoll facing the bay. Your Committee approved of plans submitted by Mr. William Pistor, and placed the entire charge of the erection of the buildings in his hands. Under his wise and faithful supervision the work has been admirably completed, and will, we are sure, give entire satisfaction to all interested in our Summer Home. A main building provides a dining-room capable of seating about ninety (90) children, a kitchen, pantries, matron's room, guest room, servants' room, etc. Five cottages, planned alike so as to economize cost but painted in different colors and happily located so as to present varying aspects to the visitor, provide sleeping accommodation for about sixteen (16) children each. A large laundry by the shore, well hidden from view, completes the establishment. The whole group of buildings nestle cosily under the shade of old trees and make a most attractive appearance.

The cost of our Summer Home is about as follows :

Land,	$2,293 80
Houses,	5,131 08
Searching titles, etc.,	159 00
Total,	$7,583 88

The cost of the land and of the main building has been met from the general fund for our Summer Home, nearly all of which has been contributed in memory of those who have passed away from earth. The cottages have been severally given by Mr. J. L. Trise, Mrs. Christian Herter, Mrs. C. Duggin, Mr. C. Adolphe Low, and Mr. J. F. Stone. Each will bear a name, memorializing the one for the love of whom it opens its doors in welcome to the feeble and sickly children of our dark tenements.

The whole Home will stand as that best of memorials of the dear dead—a living charity perpetuating the influence of those who rest from their labors while their works do thus follow them.

Our accounts are not all completed, but your Committee believe that they will hand over the Home free of debt.

Much will still remain to be done before the Home can be opened. The grounds must be placed in order, a bridge to the beach must be built, and the houses must be furnished. This, by no means inconsiderable work, must be the especial charge of our congregation this winter.

The Parish Visitor.

I cannot give any exact report of my work in writing so as to present a true idea of it. One would have to go with me into the homes of poverty and sickness—and sometimes of vice.

Looking over my records since Easter-day I find the following:

Children placed in permanent Homes.....	24
“ “ temporary “	13
“ “ summer “	107
“ taken on excursions.....	328
Adults placed in hospitals.....	9

My thanks are due to the many kind and generous persons who have enabled me to do this work.

CAROLINE ADAMS.

Bureau of Works and Charities.

THE BUREAU OF WORKS AND CHARITIES was duly incorporated according to laws of the State of New York, March 25th, 1884, under the name of "THE BUREAU OF WORKS AND CHARITIES OF ALL SOULS' CHURCH (Memorial of the Rev. Henry Anthon, D.D.)," and the following named gentleman were appointed Trustees for the first year of the existence of the Society: Rev. R. Heber Newton, D.D., E. M. Brown, D. D. Williamson, E. P. Mason, C. R. Leaycraft, G. H. Schwab, J. O. Woods, John Wheeler, A. R. Whitney.

The incorporation became necessary to enable the Bureau to purchase and hold the real estate upon which to erect the buildings for our Summer Home, and to avail itself of any bequests which may be made to the Society.

The works of the Bureau for the past year are given in detail by the heads of its various Societies.

E. P. MASON, Secretary.

RESOLUTION.

Resolved, That the thanks of this Bureau are tendered to Mr. Wm. Pistor, the architect, for his valuable and gratuitous services in planning and erecting the buildings of All Souls' Summer Home by the Sound, the artistic arrangement of which gladly surprised and pleased the visiting committee and donors of the cottages at their last visit; also that the Secretary send a copy of this resolution to Mr. Pistor, and have the same published in the next year book.
